Meet DVACK’s Shelter Supervisor, Jason Petz!

Jason has been working at DVACK for 7 months as the weekend supervisor for shelter. Jason started working for DVACK because he felt a strong connection to help his community. Through his time here, Jason has learned a lot about people and the magnitude of experiences and walks of life there are. Listening to and learning from clients is one of Jason's favorite parts of advocacy. DVACK has helped Jason strengthen his communication skills. This work was something he never thought he would do, but he has found much joy from his experiences with clients and DVACK’s positive atmosphere. Jason wants all to know that DVACK is here to help and will always be!
